

In Ropschitz, the town where Rabbi Naftali lived, it was the custom for the rich people whose houses stood isolated or at the far end of the town to hire men to watch over their property by night. Late one evening when Rabbi Naftali was skirting the woods that circled the city, he met such a watchman walking up and down. "For whom are you working?" he asked. The man told him and then inquired in his turn: "And for whom are you working, Rabbi?" The words struck the tzaddik like a shaft. "I am not working for anybody just yet," he barely managed to say. Then he walked up and down beside the man for a long time. "Will you be my servant?" he finally asked. "I should like to," the man replied, "but what would be my duties?" "To remind me," said Rabbi Naftali.

—A HASIDIC TALE

When a person commits a sin and does not turn in repentance, when that person forgets the sin, the Holy One remembers it. When a person fulfills a commandment by doing a good deed, and forgets about it, the Holy One remembers it. When a person commits a sin and later turns in repentance, remembering the sin, the Holy One grants atonement, and forgets the sin. When a person fulfills a commandment and is constantly filled with self-praise because of it, the Holy One forgets it. What a person forgets, God remembers; what a person remembers, God forgets.

—THE HASIDIC MASTER SHMELKE OF NIKOLSBERG

to overcome Your anger at us, and in Your great goodness, reconcile Yourself to Your people, Your city, and Your land. Fulfill for us the words of Your promise contained in Your Torah transmitted by Your servant Moses from Your glorious Presence, as it is written:

For their sake, I will remember the covenant with that first generation whom I brought out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the nations, to be their God; I am ADONAI. Leviticus 26:45

You have always remembered that which has been forgotten, for there is no forgetting in Your realm. So on this day, in Your great mercy, remember the binding of Isaac for the sake of his descendants. Barukh atah ADONAI, who remembers the covenant.

(The shofar is traditionally not blown on Shabbat.)

T'ki-ah sh'varim-t'ru-ah t'ki-ah

T'ki-ah sh'varim t'ki-ah

T'ki-ah t'ru-ah t'ki-ah

Today the world stands as at birth. Today all creation is called to judgment, whether as Your children or as Your servants. If as Your children, be compassionate with us as a parent is compassionate with children. If as Your servants, we look to You expectantly, waiting for You to be gracious to us, and as day emerges from night bring forth a favorable judgment on our behalf, awe-inspiring and Holy One.

Ha-yom harat olam, ha-yom ya-amid ba-mishpat kol y'tzurei olamim, im k'vanim im ka-avadim. Im k'vanim, rahameinu k'rahem av al banim. V'im ka-avadim eineinu l'kha t'luyot, ad she-t'honneinu v'totai kha-or mishpateinu, ayom kadosh.

WE OMIT THIS PARAGRAPH ON SHABBAT:

May the words of our lips be pleasing to You, exalted God, who listens, discerns, considers, and attends to the sound of our shofar blast. Lovingly accept our offering of verses proclaiming Your remembrance.
